Coordinated Land Use and Transportation Planning Task Force

April Focus: Trail-Oriented Development

Trail-Oriented Development (TrOD) is a form of development resulting from the application of infrastructure tools that support active ways of getting to and around developments. The upcoming task force meeting will feature local trail-oriented and trail-connecting developments. It will also highlight tools, resources, and strategies for fostering TrOD.

About the Task Force

A quarterly forum for North Texas local governments to discuss best practices around coordinating land use and transportation plans, policies, and projects. The goal of the task force is to provide information sharing and best practices
