

Coordinated Land Use and Transportation Task Force

Wednesday, October 12th | 2:00 - 4:00 PM | Virtual Meeting

October Focus: Housing and Land Use Regulations

What impact does housing location, variety, and availability have on our transportation system? What can be done at the local level to support more housing options? How do land use regulations play a role in that? Join the upcoming task force meeting to hear how North Texas cities are addressing these questions and what best practices research recommends to support housing through land use and zoning regulations.
