

Policy Support Unanimously Requesting Virgin Hyperloop One to Select the Dallas-Fort Worth
Region for their Hyperloop Certification Center
(P20-01)

The Regional Transportation Council (RTC) reaffirms unanimous support for Virgin Hyperloop One (VHO) to select the Dallas-Fort Worth (DFW) region for their Hyperloop Certification Center.

The RTC has worked with VHO on a series of proposals to bring the Hyperloop Certification Center to the DFW region. Hyperloop is the most innovative emerging transportation technology today and the RTC is excited to help bring this new mode of transportation to North Texas. Local governments, the business community, and area universities are working together to plan for and leverage this new technology as part of the region's future transportation system. The RTC believes the DFW region is an ideal fit for the Hyperloop Certification Center and looks forward to working with VHO on next steps of the process.