

2019 North Texas Parking Management Symposium

“Finding the Balance in Parking: Economics, Community, and Mobility”

CALL FOR PARKING MANAGEMENT AND TECHNOLOGY VENDORS

The North Texas Parking Management Symposium is an opportunity for city governments and real estate development professionals to learn, discuss, and advance parking management knowledge. The focus of the symposium: how do we plan and manage parking in a way that balances the needs and goals of a community while acknowledging economic forces that drive parking demand and the future of mobility? NCTCOG held symposiums in 2014 and 2017, with past themes being sustainable parking management and the future impact of autonomous vehicles and other technologies.

Target Vendors: Parking management, planning, and parking technology firms who can serve municipalities, real estate developers, planning/development consultants, elected officials, and other professionals involved in setting parking policy and developing parking facilities.
